Current Research

- Individual differences in imagery and mental representations
- Sensory deprivation as a model to understand brain functional development and plasticity
- Blindness and cognitive development
- The role of the cerebellum in memory and higher cognitive functions
- The interface of cognitive mechanisms and neural structures in understanding memory functions

Founding

My research activity has been supported by institutions such as The Wellcome Trust, EU, Italian Foreign Ministry, Fondazione Banca del Monte di Lombardia, Fondazione Cariplo, Italian Ministry for Scientific Research. I coordinated both Italian and international scientific networks on perception, imagery and spatial cognition. Since 2003, I have been coordinating a national research network on blindness and cognition involving the universities of Pavia, Padua, Pisa, Milano-Bicocca, and Turin.

Overall, competitive funds received as PI are approximately € 1,000,000

Scientific publications

More than 100 scientific contributions in refereed international journals including top journals in both experimental psychology (e.g., Journal of Experimental Psychology: General, Quarterly Journal of Experimental Psychology, Acta Psychologica, Memory), neuropsychology (e.g., Neuropsychologia, Cortex, Brain and Cognition) and cognitive neuroscience (e.g., Journal of Neuroscience, Journal of Cognitive Neuroscience, Cerebral Cortex, Neuroimage, Journal of Neurophysiology, Neuroscience and Biobehavioral Reviews) areas, as well as scientific monographs for major international publishers (Vecchi and Gatti, Memory as Prediction: From looking back to looking forward, The MIT Press, Cambridge, US; Cattaneo and Vecchi, Blind Vision: The neuroscience of visual impairment, The MIT Press, Cambridge, US; Cornoldi and Vecchi, Visuo-spatial working memory and individual differences, Taylor and Francis, UK).

Conferences

More than 200 paper or poster presentations in national and international conferences
